SO SAYS HERBALIST

Thousand Cures From A Room Full of Herbs

By BARBARA ABBOTT

Out of a thousand herbs packed in a second-story room above Jasper avenue came a thousand cures.

Or so contends the alibi, rather different little Chinese who thinks his ancient treatments vastly superior to medicine of the modern day.

Yet 64-year-old Louis Louie has reason to be proud of achievement as a herbalist. Many claim his unique methods have cured serious ills.

Day by day in a room heavy with the dry aroma of fragrant oriental herbs, Louis Louie studies his recipes.

For being a herbalist doesn't mean just dishing up a few dried specimens of a foreign plant, or concocting queer mixtures in odd pots.

Or so Louis Louie. It involves a lifetime of practice and centuries of knowledge.

His father was a farmer, who utilized a small patch of land on the outskirts of Kwangtung.

Margarine Goes on Sale

At 45 Cents a Pound Here

Margarine went on sale in Edmonton today. Housewives passing through city stores on their Monday morning shopping expedition flocked to the counters where the butter substitute was selling for 45 cents a pound. Beaming at the prospect of saving money, they turned their backs to the neighboring stands where butter was priced at 71 cents a pound.

UP TO THREE POUNDS

Some bought as much as three pounds of margarine. "This is really going to make a difference to our budgets," said Mrs. A. McKinnon of 10614 106 avenue. "I am not going to buy any more butter if I like this. And I think we will. After all if the British can live on it, so can we."

"Normally I have to buy a pound of butter every two days. That's pretty expensive, and margarine will be wonderful at this price," said another Edmonton housewife.

Mrs. R. P. Garber, of 10614 106 street said that she intended to use it on all bread. "I've been told it's not so good."

NEW DISC HARROW TO ASSIST FARMERS

Farmers can look forward to a new, wide, one-way disc harrow on the market this spring, Harold McNeil, Canadian sales manager of the Massey Harris Company Limited, said in Edmonton this morning.

Until now, harrows have been a fixed type, measuring no more than eight and one-half feet wide, said Mr. McNeil.

The new harrow is a more flexible type, measuring 16 feet and is fitted with sealing equipment. Depth of sealing can be more easily controlled with the new harrow, said Mr. McNeil.

While production of farm machinery is at a maximum now, Mr. McNeil reports the company cannot possibly satisfy the demand this year.

Production is now three to four times that of pre-war days and still increasing. Tractors and combines are in great demand.

Distribution of machinery improvements will be discussed at a Massey-Harris convention here this week. About 200 officials, travelers and dealers are expected to attend.

Reservists Undergo Severe Training at Wainwright

By Paul Hurnus

WAINWRIGHT MILITARY CAMP, Feb. 7.—Tank warfare under severe conditions of cold will be a tough proposition for "both sides."

The men who operate these glass machines of the Canadian Army are the training grounds a few miles south of here—and a couple of hours later, following emergency field treatment for my body from bitten pair of hands, I have an idea what this training means.

It is a hardship and seemingly wanton punishment to the men who have volunteered as part of Canada's vastly growing reserve army to keep their country strong.

The 14th Armoured Tank Regiment made a routine foray into the wild, bushy country as part of their training. I drove the last tank in the echelon formation, as a cutting below zero wind lashed—me and those of the three main groups.

Air Officials Favor Show

Edmonton 'Natural' Spot For International Display

Prominent executives and operators in Edmonton aviation circles would "endorse to the hilt" any plans for a 1949 International Air Show held here.

They are unanimous in their belief that a show such as one proposed by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations will be the greatest boost that Edmonton has ever had.

And they have a good idea how to go about it. They believe the facilities and the material are here; that all that is needed is "proper planning and vision" to carry out an International Air Show successfully.

HAVE ALL FACILITIES
"Edmonton is a natural" for a mammoth air show, declared Municipal Airport Manager Captain James Bell. "We've got everything needed to handle literally hundreds of planes."

Captain Bell said the city airport would be the place to hold the spectacle. Hangar space is not an important consideration because all craft would be left out during good summer weather, he said.

And the airport's 6,000-foot runways can handle practically any aircraft in the air now.

Barney Phillips, executive with Canadian Pacific Airlines, said his organization would lend its facilities to the airport to help in promotion of the enterprise.

"I'm sure that CPA would do anything it can to boost this marvelous event," he declared. "The idea is marvelous."

SUPPORTED BY TCA
A similar guarantee came from Trans-Canada Airlines' Harry Slater, who said that his organization would lend its facilities at the airport to help in promotion of the enterprise.

"We'll co-operate 100 per cent out here," he said.

Other smaller organizations in the area, eager to participate and help in the projected operation, were quick to show their willing ness to help.

They have been hoping and planning for this for many years, stated Tom Fox of Associated Airways and Charter Airways. "If anyone can put on this thing, we can."

But he cautioned: "If anyone had jumped the gun and started its own 'International air show,' it could never match anything at Edmonton. There is not the traffic or facilities there, he pointed out.

"To plan a large-scale air show requires the right men in the right places."

THREE DAYS FAVORABLE
Most of the aviation men questioned declared the show should be held for about a three-day period, and should take place between July and September, when flying conditions are best.

Possibility of holding the show at the Nanno field, 11 miles from the city, was also discussed. "It would be a practical or feasible by most of them."

"There is more than plenty of space here for anything they could put on," Captain Bell stated. "With use of the joint civil and military facilities at Edmonton, we could handle anything."

Types of planes to be expected at an air show would be known as well as Capt. Bell stated that Edmonton has seen just about everything flying today.

"We've had the latest jet bombers, fighters, commercial planes, and craft all the way up from Central America during the past few years," he stated.

BACKED BY CLUB
Manager of the Edmonton Flying Club, M. D. A. Fallow, was enthusiastic about the proposed show, stating that small craft could play an important part in the spectacle as the largest commercial, military and civilian planes.

"We're behind this proposition 100 per cent," he stated. "And Edmonton is the place to have it. While there is plenty of runway space at Nanno, distance, lack of larm and taxi runway and

HANDICAP RACE
Owner of one of the flying companies stated that a handicap race between Vancouver and Edmonton could very well be a highlight of the three-day display.

"Planes could be handicapped according to size, and cross an Edmonton finish line as climax to aerobatics and air maneuvers," he said. "A sizeable purse would encourage and ensure a good turnout for this feature."

One of the few problems confronting the show, he said, was the scheduling of the event. "This year could be the start of an annual event which will make Edmonton internationally famous."

The Department of Transport also would play an active hand in conduct of the proposed show, ensuring that it was a success.

"But this is necessarily incidental to the main purpose of the enterprise," he declared. "This year could be the start of an annual event which will make Edmonton internationally famous."

Reservations Announced
Petroleum and natural gas reservations were issued on February 3, according to an announcement received Saturday by the provincial government.

In the general area south of Wainwright National Park, 161,720 acres were reserved for the Alberta Calgary Petroleum Corporation and 114,900 acres to Alberta Petroleum Corporation.

Another 12,300 acres near Youngstown, 78,900 acres near Vulcan to Husky Oil and 16,000 acres to the same general area to Alexander Graham.

Sparks Oil Limited were granted reservations on 118,720 acres east of Youngstown.

20 APPLICATIONS
In addition, the provincial government received applications for 20 oil and gas leases.

Cancellations included several in the name of Shell Oil of Canada, Ltd. and 10,000 acres in the name of Charles Vernon Myers, 78,900 acres near Vulcan to Husky Oil and 16,000 acres to the same general area to Alexander Graham.

Other cancellations were on 19,840 acres west of Hinton in the name of Donald Rice Fisher and 10,000 acres in the name of Charles William Conacher.

King Edward HSA Meets Wednesday
Regular meeting of the King Edward HSA will be held in the school Wednesday, Feb. 3. Guest speaker, Miss A. Biske, of the Edmonton Public Library, will give a talk on children's books—pre-school and elementary.

Grapentins Please In Fine Concert

Musical Edmonton doesn't have to be humble about its home-grown talent.

This was demonstrated conclusively at the Women's Musical Club concert at the Masonic Temple Saturday afternoon when Egon Grapentin, violinist, and Mary Grapentin, pianist, gave a first-class performance of a difficult program.

In her own right, Mrs. Grapentin is a pianist of first magnitude with good technique and deep feeling. As an accompanist, she substitutes this feeling to that of the artist.

CHALLENGING PROGRAM
She and Mr. Grapentin played together with sympathy and understanding. The piano never overburdened upon the violin but complemented each melodic phrase almost imperceptibly.

The program was a challenging one. Performed as it was, it rated enthusiastic applause from the large audience. Most selections were familiar but not one was hackneyed.

Perhaps Mr. Grapentin's most ambitious undertaking was Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole, a rhapsody which contains beautiful, haunting melody and exciting rhythm.

We doubt if the violinist made everything of it that he might have. In the many rapid phrases, he sacrificed accuracy to rhythm. Admittedly, however, the latter is the more important in a performance.

The program was opened by Handel's Sonata in E Major in three movements, followed by Beethoven's Sonata in D Major in three movements.

PIANO SOLOS
Mrs. Grapentin's piano solos were Chopin's No. 1 in E-flat Major and Chopin's first Polonaise in A-flat.

In the first, her tone was lovely and her phrasing smooth and unhurried. She exhibited little of power in Chopin, although it was a bit flimsy in spots. This is a thoroughly enjoyable show-piece, neglected on the concert stage, possibly because of its over-familiarity.

Concluding the piano solos were Sarasate's Zapateado, Szustmann's Castanets-Tedesco, Hungarian Dance No. 4, Brahms-Jackson, Polonaise Brillante, Wieniawski.

Sarasate was particularly notable for the beautiful tone and deep feeling Mr. Grapentin put into his interpretation. In the latter numbers, the violin seemed slightly out of tune at times.

Garnau Student Wins Scholarship Of Greek Society
Winners of highest marks in Alberta for a Greek-Canadian student, Miss Daphne Irene Lingas, 964 St. Albert, has been awarded an annual scholarship presented by Anglo-Hellenic Education Progressive association.

The 17-year-old student of Garnau High school placed highest in provincial departmental examinations during 1948 while in Grade 11. Making the presentation was the organization President James G. Anon who said one objective of the association was "promotion of scholarship" among young Canadians of Greek origin.

The International AIEPEA body makes similar scholarship awards every year throughout most Canadian and American cities. Local chapter of the organization has some 75 members.

Ice Cycles Will 'Audition' Skaters
Local skaters will have a chance to try out for positions with the touring Ice Cycles of 1949.

Advancing publicity agent for the show, Mary Courtenay, announced today that auditions will be held in Edmonton while the show is here. Date and place of the try-outs will be announced this week.

Applicants who show skating ability but are not finished performers may be selected to attend the show's school at Pittsburgh and later will join the travelling group.

NEARLY 'BALMY'

Present Cold Spell Isn't Any Record

Shivering Edmontonians could be, have been and probably will be colder.

If you think the city's present stretch of cold weather is anywhere near record-breaking proportions, a conference with the weatherman will convince you of your error.

During February last year, the city was gripped by an 11-day cold spell when temperatures varied from 16 above down to 29 below. The present cold snap is, by comparison, almost balmy.

Last December's weather also made Edmontonians shiver more than they are this week. Mercury hugged the below-zero markings for 15 days.

As for what to expect before spring finally comes, the weatherman advises consideration of last year's April temperatures. During that month in 1948 a near-record was set when temperatures hit a low of 16 below.

Alice Sweeney Carnival Queen
Miss Alice Sweeney has been chosen queen of Riverside Community's annual ice carnival. She will be crowned during the two-hour program, which will feature novelty numbers, barrel jumping and racing. It is the biggest carnival the league has yet put on, and will be followed by a dance at the Community hall.

Miss Peggy Newland, well-known local instructor with the Federation of Community Leagues, is scheduled to give an exhibition of skating.

The average woman's purse weighs about three pounds and contains around 30 items.

Concluding the piano solos were Sarasate's Zapateado, Szustmann's Castanets-Tedesco, Hungarian Dance No. 4, Brahms-Jackson, Polonaise Brillante, Wieniawski.

Sarasate was particularly notable for the beautiful tone and deep feeling Mr. Grapentin put into his interpretation. In the latter numbers, the violin seemed slightly out of tune at times.

TRYING TO FIND something that "was in the paper" is no trouble to Edmonton's general Mrs. Williamson. She just refers to her 'file' of Bulletins, which is always stacked in a kitchen corner.

Woman Has Been Bulletin Subscriber for 48 Years

By Barbara Abbott
's hundreds of Edmonton workers, silver-haired Mrs. Katherine Williamson of 6548 106A avenue, is known as "Ma."

For the past 48 years, since the day she first came to the city, this bright-eyed little widow has been a devoted old tradesman who call at her door.

And for the while of that time she has read the Bulletin EVERY DAY SINCE 1901.

To Mrs. Williamson, the fact that she has given taken and a drink in her Bulletin carrier boy over every publishing day since 1901, is unimportant.

"Poor little duckers," she said, pointing out coffee for the reporter and photographer who called. "They get so cold in the winter. I'd never be happy if they didn't have their bit to eat and something to drink. I've always given the milkman, and everyone else who comes, some thing."

Born a Londoner, Mrs. Williamson, who will be 70 in April, came to Canada in 1901.

After working in various parts of Manitoba, she married in Calgary and moved soon after to Edmonton.

Remarkably active and jolly for her age, Mrs. Williamson spends most of the day cooking.

EARLY HARDSHIPS
Recalling when she first came to Edmonton, she commented on the easy life of young people today.

"Why, we had to cut our way through bush to go to church and cross the river by ferry boat. There were Indians all round the north and in town there were just a few streets, stores and houses."

"But she added, "It's just as cold delivering papers. The boys still need their coffee."

$1,000 Cheque Given Fund

Presentation of $1,000 by the B.P.O. Elks got the local campaign of the Save the Children Fund away to a auspicious start.

Of the total, $400 was contributed by the 1,500 capacity audience which attended a concert in the Capitol theatre Sunday night, which opened the campaign to continue throughout this week.

The presentation was made by Ted Pfander, head of the Edmonton branch of the Elks, to G. R. Stewart, chairman of the local branch of the fund committee.

Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, appeared for full support to the cause, donations to which may be sent to 8010 Jasper avenue.

Objective of the campaign is to railway car load of clothing, one-quarter of which is already packed. Money donations for food purchases are also being solicited.

Other smaller organizations in the area, eager to participate and help in the projected operation, were quick to show their willingness to help.

They have been hoping and planning for this for many years, stated Tom Fox of Associated Airways and Charter Airways. "If anyone can put on this thing, we can."

Improvement Parley Theme

Improvement in quality and production for Alberta's dairy industry is the theme of the program planned for the annual convention of the Alberta Dairy Farmers' Association opening in Calgary on Tuesday.

Except for the opening day, the last day and social events, the convention meets in smaller groups, the producers' section, plant, manufacturers' and cheese-makers' sections.

FORUM DISCUSSION
A highlight of the program will be a panel discussion forum on Feb. 11, featuring in which W. C. Boeck of Valmer, J. Butterfield of the provincial department of health of Edmonton, J. P. Dixon and D. H. McCallum both of the dairy branch, provincial government.

Edmonton will discuss streamlining dairy cattle management.

H. C. Briggs, who was a successful exhibitor at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair will give his impressions of that exhibition to the producers' section on Tuesday afternoon.

Department of agriculture officials from Edmonton also expected to attend and to discuss the plan of the government's program for dairying are B. J. Whitehead, Edmonton dairy agriculturist, L. M. Silcox, supervisor of dairy factory inspection, and J. Mader of the cheese section.

Redwater Field Output Jumps

By Don Flach

Great potentialities of the Redwater field are to be seen in production figures recently released by the Petroleum and Natural Gas Board. On the basis of latest data available, seven Redwater wells had a daily crude yield amounting to one-third the production of 281 wells in Turner Valley.

Redwater crude production from the seven wells was 3,542 and that of Turner Valley from 281 wells was 10,631. Turner Valley also had a daily production of 1,570 barrels of natural gasoline.

The Leduc-Woodward area had a daily production of 185 wells, while the Alberta side of the Lloydminster field had 1,772 from 66 wells. Ninety-four other Alberta wells had a daily total of 2,685.

CLOSE TO RECORD
Alberta production for the week ending Jan. 31 is estimated at 40,830 barrels. This is 2,119 barrels over the same time of last year and 42,830 barrels set a week earlier.

The month-end production in Alberta was undertaken to balance actual yield with the month's allowance.

CHARGE IN REGULATIONS
Purchasers may now buy an entire section of Crown Reserves in the Redwater field. A new clause has been entered in the public notice covering the sale of portions 15 and 20 in T-27, which expires on February 15, which enables a single bidder to submit a single offer on either one of the 640 acre parcels. Past sales of Redwater lands suggest a change of several millions will be reported.

Good progress is reported from the wells started in Redwater field little more than a week ago.

Metals Set Pace In Declining List

Papers Weakest Industrials; Golds, West Oils Also Drop

TORONTO, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Base metals today led a declining list on the Toronto Stock Exchange as almost all issues showed small losses. Golds and western oils were quietly easier. Volume was about $71,000 shares.

In base metals, Consolidated Mines and Noranda were quietly weaker in late trading to continue the downward trend. International Nickel, Noranda and Quebec were fractional losers and the Ontario, Sherrill, Silver and Lake Shore were lower ranging from four to 15 cents. Waite Amulet went against the trend to add a fraction.

Papers led the industrial groupings into lower ground. Steele was easier and a few foods weakened. Laidlaw was generally held to fractions although Canadian Vickers dipped 82.

Gold was almost at a standstill. Lake Shore and Laidlaw were steady. Steele was a junior producer showed penny losses.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Stocks suffered a late sinking spell today that more than wiped out gains. The slump never became as deep as last week's market.

Turnover was brisk, with several issues showing gains. Canadian Vickers appeared, based on moderate demand for steel and iron.

Chicago Wheat Again Loses

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Selling pressure against wheat, soybeans and lard increased today, the liquidation started in lard, which tumbled quickly to new low since trading in present contract was started. Soybeans followed, also pulled to seasonal lows. Weakness in live hogs and cottonseed oil futures in the east caused some of the selling.

$150,000 Loss In B.C. Fine

HOPE, B.C., Feb. 7.—(CP)—The surprising story of how the Fraser Canyon hotel, once a popular resort, was leveled by fire yesterday. The adjoining Cariboo Cafe and Riverside Gift Shoppe were also demolished. Total loss is estimated at $150,000.

Located on the Trans-Canada highway in the centre of the town of 1,200, the 16-room rustic hotel was equipped in flames shortly after five midnight in the kitchen of the cafe. Smoke billowed from the building.

The hotel's 12 guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marshall, owners of the nearby store, and residents of the camp escaped unhurt. Firemen quickly extinguished the fire. The cause of the fire is being investigated. The hotel was built by the Fraser Canyon Hotel Co., which is now being re-built. Its antique furniture, fur rug and numerous hunting pictures were a show place for thousands who visited Hope, known as the gateway to the Fraser Canyon.

Hydro Plan For Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Feb. 7.—(CP)—A measure empowering the provincial government to complete the $20,000,000 hydro development at Pine Falls, on the Winnipeg river, is expected to be one of the major items of business to come before the fourth session of Manitoba's 22nd legislature.

The session is scheduled to be opened tomorrow by Lieutenant Governor R. McWilliams with the opening of the traditional Speech From the Throne. Premier D. L. Campbell, who succeeded former premier Stuart Garson late last year, will make his first appearance in the house as leader of the coalition government. Mr. Garson now is the federal minister of health.

Former Premier John Bracken formed the coalition in 1946. Mr. Garson continued it and Mr. Campbell is carrying it on. Liberal Conservatives, with 26 members in the 55-seat house, form the largest single group supporting coalition. There are 14 Progressive Conservatives and two Social Credit members in coalition.

In opposition are 18 CCF members and three Independents.

Every year it costs some $100,000 to maintain the 22nd legislature. Last year, $70,000 for burn remediation and $15,000,000 for such diseases.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—This is the first edition of the Hollywood language made easy, or film talk in simple translations.

Hollywood, you see, has its own jargon. People often don't say exactly what they mean, and that makes it hard for strangers to understand.

Here's an illustration. A so-called friend tells the producer of an epic: "Your picture is magnificent! It's a masterpiece! It's the annals of the cinema."

Translation: "It's an artistic flop that won't make a nickel, even with bank nights all week and free baby-sitting."

A favorite farewell phrase of two Hollywood acquaintances is "Let's have lunch together some day."

Translation: "Probably won't see you for a long time. So long!"

When two people are discussing a deal, one often concludes with "Don't call me. I'll call you."

Translation: "The deal is off, and don't bother me about it."

An actress may comment about a recent picture of hers: "We really had a great time making it; never had so much fun on a picture."

Translation: "The script was lousy, but I had to do it, so I tried to enjoy myself."

A friend comments to a star about his recent film, "It's a great picture; should be a solid money-maker."

Translation: "It's an awful piece of corn, but maybe the masses will go for it."

FAVORITE PHRASE

Translation: "The director wants to see what the character can do, supposed to be, and the actor didn't know at all."

One remark which a columnist often hears from a star is "I read your story about me. It was so lovely by a alliance which needs no translation."

Translation: "The director wants to see what the character can do, supposed to be, and the actor didn't know at all."

PAYING PRICE for liberty will be Mrs. Georgeette Bruck, 21, of Los Angeles who has agreed to undergo sterilization operation as penalty for beating her 7-month-old son to death. Judge said he would give her six years probation if she would undergo surgery and give up rest of her family to welfare officials. She agreed.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—Argentine Chile have decided to recognize Israel. Thirteen other countries have granted Israel de facto (partial) or de jure (full) recognition.

BROAD POWERS
Reorganization of the house was ready to consider the governmental reorganization bill, giving President Truman broad powers to realize executive agencies. Speaker Sam Rayburn, who introduced the bill, would pass easily. And former president Herbert Hoover, head of the government reorganization commission, was expected to testify on a similar bill.

Bogart, Davis Get Top Film Salaries

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Big-eyed Bette Davis made $328,000 to edge out film songstress Deanna Durbin and gain top female billing tonight on a treasury list of the leading money makers in the United States.

But film's scowling Humphrey Bogart finished in front of both with $467,362.

It was the second list of big salaries issued covering payments for the calendar year of 1946 and business fiscal years ending during 1947. The big take takes from the top-bracket earnings by taxes is not shown in the report.

Miss Davis drew her pay from the same film concerns as Bogart, Warner Brothers. Miss Durbin, a native of Winnipeg, was paid $323,477 by Universal Pictures.

MANY OVERTAKEN
But a woman business executive overtook many of the film levelers. Dorothy Weaver, 35-year-old president of Lord and Taylor, New York department store, was paid $210,000. That, for example, was $13,846 more than the $24,416 credited to movie actress Rita Hayworth.

That, for example, was $13,846 more than the $24,416 credited to movie actress Rita Hayworth. The fiances of All Khan, wealthy Indian prince.

THE TOP 10
The top 10 on the salary list, seven of them from the movie world:

1. Bogart.
2. Jacob W. Schwab, New York textile magnate, who paid $340,248 from United Merchants and Manufacturers, Incorporated, and $100,000 from Cohn-Hall-Mark Company for a $440,248 total.
3. Miss Davis.
4. Movie actor Dennis Morgan, $203,000 from Warner Brothers.
5. Miss Durbin.
6. Joseph Pulitzer, of the publishing and prize-awarding family, $284,712 from the Pulitzer Publishing Company.
7. William Goetz, Universal Pictures producer, $284,000.
8. Ann Sheridan, film star, $280,345 from Warner Brothers.
9. R. S. Lesage, Texas Lease Company, $259,923.
10. A tie between Robert Montgomery, the movie-actor-producer, $250,000 from Universal Pictures and George W. Mason, board chairman of the Nash-Kellogg Corporation, Detroit, $250,000.
